DELEGATION TO SUPPORT HIM.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS URGE THE

The Action Based Upon the Belief that No Indiana Man Will Be a Candidate-Gossip.

For the last few days there has been much speculation among local Republicans as to who would receive the nomination for Vice President. Most of them have given up all hope, however, that the nominee will come from the State of Indiana, and, as a consequence, interest has centered in the probable nomination of Roosevelt. There are some few who still think that Senator Fairbanks will be the nominee, but they compose a very small minority. The majority are anxious to see Roosevelt nominated, and as an evidence of this feeling a number of prominent Republicans, including Charles Elliott, Newton W. Harding, Fred E. Matson, Harry Smith, Armin Koehne and Judge Leathers, yesterday sent a dispatch to Senator Fairbanks, hairman of the Indiana delegation, requesting him, in the event that there was no candidate from Indiana, to do what he could toward securing the nomination of Roosevelt. It is believed that Roosevelt's nomination would mean increased majori-ties for the Republicans in this State this prevailing sentiment among th state officers is that Roosevelt should be nominated for the vice presidency. They believe that he would add strength and enthusiasm to the ticket and would make many votes for the state ticket. In accordance with this sentiment they also have wired Governor Mount, asking him to support Roosevelt for the vice-presidential nomination in the event that the name of an Indiana man is not proposed.

TROUBLE IS BREWING

Between the Two Factions in the Democratic Party. ne time ago the silver leaders of in diana wrote to Senator Jones, chairman crowd from Indiana. To their great surprise Senator Jones replied that he was sorry, but he could not give them assurseats for them. He said that he supposed each delegate would receive five or six tickets, and that therefore the entire State would not be entitled to more than 200 or 300 tickets. The silver men felt that they had been outgeneraled by the conservative element of the party, believing that they had gobbled up all the tickets. Instead, however, of begging the conservative ele-ment for tickets, the silver men wrote a very warm letter to Senator Jones, de-manding the tickets. They also dispatched P. J. Kelleher to Chicago to see William Jennings Bryan, believing that on account of the friendship that exists between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kelleher they would thus make sure of the tickets. Mr. Kelleher has been in Chicago a week, but has not gave his name as Harry Miller, of Rush-yet been heard from. Dr. L. N. Howard, vice president of the ndiana Silver Democratic Club, said yesterday that the tickets were sure to be | tor having his wounds sewed up. He was forthcoming, but declined to say how they would get them. The silver delegation is for John Gilbert Shanklin for national committeeman. Vice President Howard said yesterday that Thomas Taggart had stated in an interview that the Indiana silver people would run a train of twelve coaches to Kansas City in his interests, but that he was very much mistaken. "In the first place," said he, "we will have about six coaches, and in the second we want to see Shanklin re-elected national committee man, and it is not necessary that an Indiana man be elected national chairman."

FLAG TORN DOWN.

The Butler Seniors Get Even with the Freshmen.

On Tuesday night the freshmen flag, which was put up about a week ago on the cupola of the main building, was trampled under the feet of the senior boys. Many attempts had been made by the under classmen to take down the '03 flag. but the two big policemen, who have been staying in the building during the nights of commencement week, had succeeded in keeping the boys out of the building. However the coppers dared not show themselves at the windows and doors or a shower of sticks, eggs and gravel greeted them from the boys, who were waiting for a chance to get even. Tuesday night the coppers were either asleep or had deserted their posts, as the senior boys found no obstacle in the way to the roof save one big freshman who had followed them and who caused one of the seniors a narrow escape. The roof was gained by resting a ladder from one of the chapel windows to the gutter of the roof. Just as one of the seniors, Ernest Graham, had scaled the ladder and was pulling himself up to the roof, the big freshman rushed up to save his flag, grabbing the ladder and jerking it from the window. Luckily he was too late, as the senior had a firm grip on the roof of the building and succeeded in pulling himself up. Had the freshman been a second sooner the senior would probably have fallen to the ground, a distance of sixty or seventy feet. Once on the roof the senior opened the trap door and let his comrades into the tower. The flag was soon torn down, and a senior's hat was left hanging on the pointed lightning rod at the top of the cupola.

The Board of Works was in session yesterday afternoon, checking over the bills for sprinkling of streets. There have been a number of complaints made to the board regarding the manner in which the sprinkbeen protests made against the fines assessed for poorly performing the work. These were the matters over which the board puzzled itself yesterday in an endeavor to adjust matters equitably. The contractors say the water evaporates before the inspectors make their rounds.

The Water Contract. The Board of Works yesterday received notification from the Indianapolis Water Company that it could not accept the pro-

The matter of the proposed switch over the Crawfordsville road was discussed at some length, but no action was taken. NANCY HANKS MONUMENT.

Work Will Begin at Once, as the Plan Has Been Approved.

James S. Culver, the contractor ome time ago agreed to build, gratuitously, a monument to the memory of Nancy Hanks, the mother of Abraham Lincoln, provided the Nancy Hanks Memorial Association would accept of his services, has submitted plans to that association which are entirely satisfactory, and the work of building the monument will be begun at once. Mr. Culver had the contract for rebuilding the national Lincoln monument at Springfield, and, as he had all of the stone in the old monument at his disposal, he magnanimously offered to use it in building the monument for Mr. Lincoln's mother. He suggested that, merely as a matter of sentiment, the stones which were used in the temporary sepulchre in which Mr. Lincoin's body was entombed while the new monument was being built, should be used as a foundation for the shaft over the grave of Nancy Hanks. The suggestion of Mr. Culver was well received by the Nancy Hanks Memorial Association, and this plan will be followed out in the building of the nonument. After the foundation is laid a base, six feet square, will be placed upon it, and from this will rise a plain shaft. The monument will be exceedingly plain and simple, typitying the life of the woman whom it commemorates. It is probable that it will not be completed for some time, as Mr. Culver has signified his inten-tion of building the monument so that it will last for many years.

FRIENDS OF CHILDREN

THE NATIONAL HOME SOCIETY NOW IN SESSION HERE.

Three Meetings Held During the Da and Evening-The Topics Under Consideration,

The National Children's Home Society

met in annual session in the parlor of Plymouth Church yesterday morning. Not all of the delegates had arrived, but more than enough to constitute a quorum were present. Prof. C. R. Henderson, of Chicago University, who is national president of the society, was in the chair. The invocation was offered by Rev. W. H. Thompson, state superintendent of Pennsylvania. Rev. F. M. Elliott, Indiana superintendent, welcomed the delegates in brief talk, in which he paid a glowing tribute to the life and noble work of Rev. Oscar C. McCulloch. Mr. Elliott also referred to Indiana as one of the most prominent of the States which care for dependent children. Rev. Dr. Haggerty replied to the address of welcome. Reports from state superintendents were listened to, showing a large increase in number of children provided for and money secured for the purpose. Rev. E. P. Savage, Minnesota superintendent, furnished an interesting paper on "The Status, Scope and Importance of National Society Organization," which was discussed briefly. Rev. H. H. Hart was chosen as chairman of a nominating committee.

Rev. J. J. Dysart, state superintendent of Wisconsin, read a paper on "The Treatmen of Kindred Societies" at the afternoon session, and was followed by Rev David Gay, the Missouri superintendent, in a discussion of the "Care of Incorrigibles -- Method." Mr. Gay replaced Carl Kelsey, of Chicago, who was unable to be present After the adjournment of the afternoon session the delegates took a street-car ride and visited some of the state institu-tions located in Indianapolis. THE NIGHT MEETING.

Last night's meeting was of interest to the general public as well as to the delegates and in anticipation of increased attendance the auditorium of the church was brought into service. With Prof. Henderson on the platform were Hon. John W. Kern, W. H. Thompson and Prof. H. H. Hart, speakers of the evening. Mr. Kern's original purpose in attending was to rep resent Mayor Taggart in welcoming the society on behalf of the city of Indianapolis. The absence of Governor Mount, however, made it necessary for him to represent the chief executive of the State as well as of the city. Mr. Kern's address was characterized by brevity and good feeling. The response was made by Rev. W Miss Jessie M. Payne, of this city, who was extremely fortunate in being accommer, of the Symphony Orchestra, and on the plane by Miss Grace Black. The prin-cipal address of the evening was "The Child-saving Movement," by Prof. H. H. Hart. Prof. Hart's graphic account of the movement was enhanced by a series of remarkably clear and happily chosen stereopticon pictures which were thrown upon a large screen during the progress of his talk. The speaker took firm stand on the side of home training for children as op-posed to the institutional method in vogue n most of the States. He showed by the help of the pictures that children brought us according to the plan of the Children's Home Society fare better and turn out better than those who are reared in droves in state orphan asylums where there is an utter lack of the gentler influences o

A MUSICAL FEATURE. The programme closed with a decided musical event in the shape of a piano selection by Prof. Charles F. Hansen. Prof. Hansen is known far and wide as a thorough master of the pipe organ, but it not generally known that he is quite as much at home with the piano. His marvelously sympathetic and skillful rendition of a nocturne from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" last night ognized with a hearty outburst of applause. both morning and afternoon, and will terminate this evening. Papers will be read at all of the meetings and this afternoon the business before the society will be given final attention. This includes reports of state superintendents, report of standing committee, report of special committees, ominations, annual election and fixing place of holding the next meeting. One of the chief questions agitating the delegates is that of organization and maintenance of a national superintendent. The delegate attendance last night had reached the number of sixty, representing twenty-two States, and it was believed that no more would be enrolled.

Bareus and Voting Machines. It is said that James S. Barcus, of Terre Haute, is trying to form a combination of voting-machine companies. As there are many kinds of voting machines on the C.
